To Whom It May Concern,

I'm lodging this complaint anonymously.

I saw the news about the Gonzalez banner missing a disclosure and couldn't help wonder why one campaign was being called out over another. There are numerous examples of campaigns who are not using disclosures, many of which are likely unintentional. However, it seems if we are going to maintain election integrity everyone should be held accountable to follow the rules.

For example, the banner in the attached photograph from the Jamie Dunphy for D1 Campaign, I believe that it is also missing the "paid for statement . . ." required on banners 6 sq feet or more, that the Gonzalez campaign is currently being slammed for in the media.

The sign in questions is at Atomic Auto at NE 102nd and Glisan.

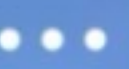

Sincerely,

A concerned citizen
