Dependent Eligibility

Employees may enroll their eligible dependents for coverage under the City's medical/vision, dental and supplemental life insurance plans. Eligible dependents include the following (for a full list of eligible dependents, refer to your Benefits Handbook):

Legal spouse recognized by the employee's state of residence. A divorced or legally separated spouse is not eligible for coverage as a dependent;

Domestic partner, as defined and declared in the City of Portland's Domestic Partner Affidavit.

Registered Domestic partner as per the Oregon Family Fairness Act of 2007.

Child under the age of 26; including the employee's natural child, stepchild, adopted child or eligible child of an enrolled domestic partner (as declared on the Domestic Partner Affidavit.) A stepchild or child of an enrolled domestic partner is only eligible for coverage if the employee's spouse or domestic partner is primarily responsible for financial support. A child may be enrolled if coverage is required by divorce decree or court order.

Proof of a dependent's initial eligibility and continued eligibility may be requested at any time. Employees must be able to provide proof of eligibility for continued coverage. Failure to provide proof of dependent status will result in loss of dependent coverage.

State Income Tax and Domestic Partners

Registered Domestic Partners: Based upon guidance by the Oregon Department of Revenue, the cost of benefits provided to same-sex domestic partners registered in the state of Oregon is not taxable for Oregon state income tax purposes. Accordingly, the City does not withhold state tax for the taxable amount of the benefits provided to registered same-sex domestic partners from your paycheck.

Other Domestic Partners: The State Department of Revenue has advised the City that the value of benefits provided to unregistered domestic partners is taxable income. Accordingly, the City will withhold state tax from your paycheck for the amount of the benefits provided to unregistered domestic partners that is taxable income.

Federal Income Tax and Domestic Partners

Generally, the Internal Revenue Code considers the cost of benefits provided to domestic partners to be taxable income. Hence, for federal tax purposes, the value of health insurance coverage for an employee's domestic partner is includable in the employee's federal taxable income unless the domestic partner qualifies as the employee's tax dependent. Because the federal government considers these benefits as taxable income, the City withholds federal tax for the taxable amount of the benefits from your paycheck. With respect to whether your domestic partner qualifies as a tax dependent, you should consult with your tax adviser to determine whether you can make an adjustment to your federal tax return. You must complete yearly certification with the City to claim your domestic partner as a tax dependent for health insurance purposes.

NOTICE REGARDING TAX TREATMENT OF BENEFIT COVERAGE PROVIDED
For Domestic Partners For Plan Year July 1, 2022 Through June 30, 2023

To qualify a domestic partner for coverage under an eligible City Benefits Plan, the Affidavit of Benefit Eligible Dependent Status and the Affidavit of Dependent Domestic Partner Status must be completed.

Provided that all requirements have been met in the Affidavits, employees may enroll a domestic partner and eligible dependent children of a domestic partner: 1) when an employee first becomes benefit eligible, 2) during the annual benefit enrollment period, 3) mid-year with a qualifying family status change that is consistent with and on account of your new family status, or 4) a change in the domestic partner's employment status and employer sponsored health coverage.

The taxable value of the domestic partner coverage will depend on the benefit plan and level of coverage in which the employee and domestic partner are enrolled and on the number of enrolled eligible dependents of the employee and/or the number of enrolled eligible dependents of the domestic partner. According to Federal tax law, coverage for domestic partners is a taxable benefit.* Oregon tax law differs from federal law. The value of benefits is not taxable for Oregon income tax purposes for same-sex domestic partners registered in the State of Oregon. The City recommends that you consult with your tax adviser to determine your tax liability. Please refer to the tables below to assist in identifying the taxable income.

Employee + Domestic Partner	If the employee is adding a domestic partner and no dependent children of the domestic partner are being added and the employee does not have other eligible dependents enrolled, the taxable value to the employee should be calculated by subtracting the difference of the 1-Party rate from the 2-Party rate listed below
Employee + 1 dependent + domestic partner	If the employee has one enrolled eligible dependent and is adding a domestic partner (with or without dependent children of the domestic partner also added) the taxable value to the employee should be calculated from subtracting the difference of the 2-Party rate from the Family rate listed below
Employee + 2 dependents + domestic partner	If the employee has two or more enrolled eligible dependents and is adding a domestic partner (with or without dependent children of the domestic partner also added) there is no additional taxable value to the employee. The employee was already enrolled in Family coverage and no additional value will be added to the employee's income.
Employee + domestic partner + 1 or more domestic partner dependent(s)	If the employee is adding a domestic partner and one or more dependent children of the domestic partner are being added and the employee does not have other eligible dependents enrolled, the taxable value to the employee should be calculated from subtracting the difference of the 1-Party rate from the Family rate listed below.

The first and second pay period of each month the taxable value of the benefit as identified above (on a monthly basis) will be reflected on the employee's paycheck as income for federal tax purposes because the federal government considers these benefits as taxable income. The City will withhold federal tax from the taxable amount of the benefits. The City will also withhold state tax from your paycheck for the cost of the benefits provided to domestic partners not registered in the state of Oregon.

ELIGIBILITY

Provided that all requirements have been met in the Affidavit of Dependent Domestic Partnership and/or a Certificate of Registration of Domestic Partnership from the state of Oregon is provided, employees may enroll a domestic partner and the eligible dependent children of a domestic partner in the following ways: when an employee first becomes benefit eligible, during the annual benefit enrollment period and mid-year with a qualified family status change (i.e., adding a domestic partner's child after a court decree places the child in the domestic partner's custody or a change in the domestic partner's employment status and employer sponsored health coverage.)

To qualify as a domestic partner, the Affidavit of Dependent Domestic Partnership must be completed. Alternatively, if registered in the State of Oregon, a copy of the certificate of registration must be provided to the Benefits Office. Should employees have a concern about the tax advantage or disadvantage of this choice they should direct those questions to an attorney, CPA and/or tax consultant since individual circumstances may vary. Note: Coverage for a domestic partner may not be federally taxable if the domestic partner can be claimed as a dependent under federal tax law, and you, the employee, may be eligible for tax relief, as appropriate.
