March 3, 2025

Today Portland City Administrator Michael Jordan released a draft budget package to address the City's financial deficit. The package includes potential cuts to all bureaus, including Police, Fire, Parks, public safety programs like homeless services.

This package is in no way a final decision from the City Council, it's a starting point for us to begin budget deliberations. For the first time in Portland's history and thanks to Charter Change, Councilors will hold in-district town halls to hear from Portlanders about your top priorities for the budget. From now till June, we ask that you stay engaged and help us shape the difficult decisions ahead.

As the representatives for District 3, we will consider the Administrator's budget cut package and your feedback extremely carefully. We don't want to undersell how difficult of a financial moment the City of Portland is in, or how dire it could become should the federal administration withhold further funds. The financial constraints the City faces will leave City Council with extremely limited options.

We also won't undersell how resilient Portland is.

This will be a time for Portlanders to do what we do best: Come together to help one another. We will have to pitch in like we never have before to maintain our Parks, clean our streets, and help our neighbors. As your District 3 representatives, we are ready to do this alongside you.

Sincerely,

Councilor Koyama Lane

Councilor Angelita Morillo
