The City of Portland is seeking community members to volunteer to serve on the Portland Committee on Community-Engaged Policing. Applications are also being accepted for the Citizen Review Committee. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis, with applications received by March 31, 2024 reviewed first for current and upcoming vacancies.

Portland Committee on Community-Engaged Policing: The Portland Committee on Community-Engaged Policing (PCCEP) is a group of 13 community members who are independent from the City and the Portland Police Bureau (PPB). Our work includes independent assessment of the implementation of the United States v. City of Portland Settlement Agreement and gathering input and exchanging information about PPB policies and practices.

Citizen Review Committee: The Citizen Review Committee (CRC) is an advisory body to Independent Police Review and the Portland Police Bureau. CRC members hear appeals of police misconduct investigations, listen to public concerns regarding police conduct, and review Police Bureau policies and procedure. CRC members also advise IPR by participating in the development of policy recommendations, review methods for handling complaints, and advise the IPR Director on the criteria for dismissal, mediation and investigation.
