 One thing I forgot to mention - we discussed how identifying PCCEP's desired result from the outset would impact what subcommittee worked on it. For instance, if PCCEP determined that their goal was to educate the public about their rights around consent searches (a series of events), that could go to Community Engagement. If the goal was changing the policy, that would go to the Policy & Reform.

yes mentorship
- Stephanie Howard (19:37:52):
Maybe this is a hot take, but it might be worthwhile to consider shaping subcommittees based on tasks/outputs and systematizing that as a workflow.
For instance, the S&P subcom could be tasked with tracking and updating the full committee on policies and directives that are being put up for universal review, and drafting statements for court hearings that the full committee can then focus on.
A community engagement subcom could be the group tasked with developing how PCCEP will engage with community on any topic. Then the full committee can always be part of navigating the larger topics and referring items to subcoms.

That's essentially what the current model is, and there's constant bleed over. We are also getting a fulltime staff member entirely dedicated to community engagement.

- barb. rainish (she/her) community member (19:40:32):
If Stephanie's model is used, I would put the town halls, and forums under the community subcommittee. AND

Replying to "Maybe this is a hot take, but it might be worthwhi...":
It just seems like the topics/subject matter is driving decisions about what work is going to which subcom, rather than the nature of the work that needs to be done to engage with that topic, if that makes sense. That makes it really hard to delegate work effectively because topically it is all important to everyone.

Mental health was an impetus, but the overall settlement is based on inequitable policing
- dan handelman he/him (20:04:39):
PCCEP Is supposed to be sure the Settlement Agreement gets implemented in a way the community supports. The initial invitation to the DOJ was to look at racial disparities. But they said though data show differences they can't prove intent.

- dan handelman he/him (20:05:14):
So PCCEP has always made sure to look at racial justice, I think there are many who would argue PCCEP often forgets to include mental health in its focus.
barb. rainish (she/her) community member: 👍 Kerry Driver: 👍
- Stephanie Howard (20:05:45):
The DOJ findings that led to the settlement agreement were that there was a pattern or practice by PPB of using force on people with perceived mental illness. PCCEP's scope includes that but also includes matters of community concern.
Tia Palafox: 👍
- Tia Palafox (20:05:48):
I thought the S. A. Came from excessive use of force towards mental health crisis situations. So Behavioral Health was very important

 Replying to "PCCEP Is supposed to be sure the Settlement Agreem...":
 You all should watch Alien Boy:the story of James Chasse. It is on you tube
 Kip S- Settlement & Policy Subcommittee: 👍
- Tia Palafox (20:14:23):
 When will the first Steering Committee meeting be held?
 barb. rainish (she/her) community member: ❤️
- barb. rainish (she/her) community member (20:14:43):
 you have another Wednesday?
- dan handelman he/him (20:15:35):
 The meeting is 2.5 hours right? So why not elect co-chairs of full committee, vote on a changed set of subcommittees, then vote on subcommittee chairs?

- PCCEP Portland (20:15:56):
Replying to "The meeting is 2.5 hours right? So why not elect c...":
It's possible. People may want more time to consider.
- barb. rainish (she/her) community member (20:16:21):
Wait are the subcommittees voting in their chairs or is the whole committee voting on subcommittee chairs
- Kip S- Settlement & Policy Subcommittee (20:16:32):
that's what I was saying-
- PCCEP Portland (20:16:33):
Replying to "Wait are the subcommittees voting in their chairs ...":
whole committee
barb. rainish (she/her) community member: 👍
- Kip S- Settlement & Policy Subcommittee (20:17:07):
we can message and email and discuss

Replying to ""Community Restoration and Equity" perhaps":
I like that framing
- Tia Palafox (20:19:52):
Can I ask another question in public comment?
- barb. rainish (she/her) community member (20:20:23):
are they publicly named?
