The COCL reports usually include data on ECIT vs non ecit outcomes.

I'd like to hear it from them

[6:29 PM] dan handelman he/him (Guest)

In December 2022, PPB released their second report for the year, covering the time period from April 1, 2022 to September 30, 2022.

[6:29 PM] dan handelman he/him (Guest)

The data in the report indicate that non-ECIT calls have a 24% greater likelihood of the person being transported to the hospital when an ECIT officer is on-scene. This is a reduction from the previous reporting period (50%), indicating that outcomes between calls involving ECIT officers and those that do not involve an ECIT are becoming more similar. This is also the case for arrest outcomes, for the data for this report indicated no difference between calls involving an ECIT officer and calls not involving an ECIT officer as it relates to transporting the person to jail. For this outcome, two of the last four assessments have found no difference, as well as each assessment done prior to April 2020.

[6:29 PM] dan handelman he/him (Guest)

[6:31 PM] Burley, Christopher

[6:32 PM] Tia Palafox Guest

[6:35 PM] Tia Palafox Guest

[6:36 PM] dan handelman he/him (Guest)

Force 1010.00 and deadly force 1010.10

[6:38 PM] Tia Palafox Guest

When is the next directive review due?

[6:39 PM]

[6:40 PM] dan handelman he/him (Guest)

I guess my point is really it took 1.5 years for BHUAC to get a plan where the PPB is presenting to them about deadly force incidents and I would hope that if there are ways that the specific needs of people with mental illness are not being considered when officers are deciding to use force/deadly force this seems to be the only advisory group with the proper lived experience to give good advice.

[6:41 PM] dan handelman he/him (Guest)

Wild assumption on the lived experience of other AC memberships.

[6:43 PM] dan handelman he/him (Guest)

Oh, where is Jared Hager these days. He was very clear with this group in October 2021 that BHUAC can make any recommendations about directives and policies that affect people with mental illness.

Buckley, Mary Claire was invited to the meeting.

[6:45 PM] dan handelman he/him (Guest)

Mental health issues are very rarely even discussed at the Police Review Board if that is one of the groups you are referring to.

PCCEP does. I don't know who else
