DEVELOPMENT SCENARIOS

SCENARIO 1: FULLY PRIVATE

PROGRAM:
Mixed-use program with five buildings, all privately financed.

KEY TAKEAWAYS:
- Program is not financially feasible in recent market conditions
- Expensive on-site costs
- Expensive parking costs

SCENARIO 2: PUBLIC / PRIVATE / NON-PROFIT PARTNERSHIP

PROGRAM:
Mixed-use program with five buildings. One building is assumed to be non-profit affordable housing. Public agencies help fund and construct all public facility (plazas, roads, green space). Non-profit organizations lead construction and development on certain buildings. Joint development is assumed for a site-wide podium / underground level, with private development of residential on top.

KEY TAKEAWAYS:
- This scenario yields an acceptable IRR of 12% in recent market conditions
- Requires significant partnerships to make deal structure work

INCREASING PROJECT FEASIBILITY REQUIRES:

1. Community-led refinement of base development scenario to increase revenue generating uses
2. Discounted land sale or site lease via partnership with Oregon Department of Transportation
3. Creative public/private development to lower infrastructure costs carried by private side (eg. TriMet use of FTA Joint Development Program)
4. Consider new sources of gap financing (Tax Increment Financing, Portland Clean Energy Fund, housing bond funds, Federal Transit Administration grants, etc.)
5. BIPOC communities-led planning and capital campaign for multi-cultural center and human services center
6. Major transit improvements bring an increase in market strengths
